East Berlin Soldiers Monument Intersection Berlin Street & Main Street, East Berlin

In 1871, the Berlin chapter of the GAR erected another monument to the soldiers in East Berlin. This chapter was named on honor of Wadsworth Washburne, the only son of Rev. Asahel Washburne. There are fifty-three names inscribed on this monument. The first soldier to die was August Brandt who died of dysentery on September 20, 1861. The last soldier to die was Walter Penfield who died on March 5, 1927.
